CANDIA, N. H., Feb. 15, 1899.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

I have the honor to herewith submit my report as Road Agent for the past year. The great quantity of rain which fell between the latter part of July and November, washed the roads badly, and made it almost impossible to keep them in a passable condition, and I consider it fortunate that we were able to keep the total expense well within the limit of the past two years.

REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD.

In accordance with the requirement of the law, the School Board respectfully submit the following report for the year ending August 1, 1898:

As will be seen, by reference to the statistical table, we have maintained ten schools with an average length of 21.8 weeks; the whole number of different pupils registered, who attended school one day or more being 199. The number between the ages of five and sixteen, as enrolled by our truant officer, was 183. Of this number 83 were boys, and 100 girls.

In reviewing the work accomplished in our schools during the past year, we think it may be truthfully said that at no time have they been more uniformly successful. We have studied carefully the demands and requirements of each and every school, and have endeavored to obtain teachers with not only educational ability, but those of high moral character, and especially adapted to the positions they were to fill, and on the whole we feel that we have been successful.

The prosperity and success of a school depends not upon the individual efforts of the School Board, the teacher or the pupils, but upon the united efforts of all, including the parents, to whom both directly and indirectly we owe to a great degree the success of our schools. It is gratifying indeed that visits by parents and citizens are becoming more frequent, and that they apparently realize the pleasure, encouragement and benefits of such visits to both teachers and pupils, as well as being enabled to judge for themselves of the progress of those in whom they are interested. The attendance at the closing exercises, which took place in the forenoon, in some of our schools was noticeably large; showing a marked interest on the part of many whose household duties usually claim their attention at that time of the day.

During the year, the schoolhouse at East Candia has had necessary repairs, and we wish the same might be said of others, where they are certainly needed. Several of our school-rooms are quite attractive and we hope ere long that some of our children, struggling for an education and truly deserving, who are compelled to sit day after day, and week after week, in unsuitable, illventilated rooms, may have, at least, a comfortable, wholesome school room; for we know that children are influenced greatly, both morally and physically, by their surroundings, and the most attractive school-room is none too good for them.

It was deemed necessary to make a change in the Geographies which had been in use for several years, and after much consideration the Natural series was adopted and ready for use at the beginning of the next school year. These are very attractively illustrated books, up to date in every particular, and have not failed to interest and give good results. With the care which we hope, and expect, they will receive, they too, can be used several years.

Supplementary reading has been brought into our school work, perhaps more than ever before, with great advantage to pupils; for we believe it not only increases their store of knowledge, but has a tendency to cultivate a love for substantial and instructive literature. Music and drawing have been very generally taught, and some very fine work has been the result. Several of our teachers have made great efforts to obtain organs for use in their school-rooms, which have proved not only a pleasure but a great benefit to their pupils; for we are glad to say that quite a little musical talent is noticeable among the children of our town.

The schools of the past winter which properly come into the report of next year, but of which we wish to make a passing mention, have been, we have reason to believe, very successful and much appreciated as was shown by the daily attendance in all the schools. We feel very grateful for the extra money appropriated for their maintenance and have endeavored to use it for the greatest good to the greatest number. We have been enabled, thereby, to have eight additional weeks in every school, giving to the younger as well as the older pupils equal chances for school privileges.

We have pleasure and pride in submitting the following list of pupils, who have had a record of perfect attendance for one term or for the entire year; also those whose attendance has been nearly perfect. In addition to these, we wish to mention the names of Signe Gustafson and Lilla Damon who were perfect in attendance, but whose names were overlooked and unintentionally omitted from the Roll of Perfect Attendance of last year.
